More information on programme in the tab above.

We invite you to attend the conference on December, 13th at Copernicus Science Center \(Warsaw, Wybrzeże Kościuszkowskie 20\).

Those who will not be able to participate in person can watch the broadcast of the IGF on the Internet. All sessions will be streamed live. You will be able to access the transmission from the Forum's website.

Admission to the Forum is free of charge. Most sessions, with some exceptions, will be conducted in Polish with no interpretation provided.

Soon more information on individual sessions and participating experts will be available. Please be aware that both the agenda and the list of experts may change prior to the conference.

The event is being prepared by the IGF Poland Steering Committee. It is composed of leaders of five stakeholder groups: government, business, civil Society, technical organisations and scientific community.
